

Project Commander is the leading project planning software in construction for cost and ease of use - especially for companies £2m-£50m

Project Commander is one of the easiest to use and the most cost effective planning solutions around today and can exchange information with Microsoft Project, PowerProject and Primavera.

Cost advantage

The cost of single licence for a stand-alone or for a network is only £375. For office based staff for £375, all staff can have access to Project Commander. Further licences cost only £125 (a 66% discount). This means massive savings against competitors such as PowerProject - where one licence costs nearly £1100 (including Maintenance) with minimal extra user discounts; and Microsoft Project 2007 (Standard) which costs around £400 and there is no network version.

Easier to use

Since Project Commander is WYSIWYG, what you see on the screen is exactly how it prints. It is highly graphical and allows you to draw bars, link bars and move bars with the mouse. It fits the chart exactly to the page. Both PowerProject & Microsoft Project are both notoriously awkward when it comes to printing.

Project Commander is used even down at Site Manager level to create short-term plans or update contract programmes. Anyone can create a professional Tender plan with client Cost graph quickly with little training.

Competitive features

Both Project Commander and PowerProject were written specifically for the construction industry, but Microsoft Project lacks many features. There is an extensive comparison with MS Project on our website, along with a full list of all features.

Over the years, Project Commander has been improved to the extent that it has 90% of the features in PowerProject and quite a few of those are easier and superior - only a full time planner would appreciate PowerProject's extra features. Most people cannot see the difference except the price - Project Commander is three times cheaper.

As far as Microsoft Project is concerned, Project Commander is far easier to use and is superior in 90% of comparable features.

Training

Project Commander can be used straight out of the box with no training. You will never need more than one day's training to get to grips with most of Project Commander's features - unlike our competitors.

We offer training at your office or low cost live short courses over the internet at times to suit you - even out of hours or at weekends. All trainers are our own staff and are experienced construction IT planning experts.

Project Commander comes with a free Viewer that is on the install CD or can be downloaded off the web. This allows both users and clients to view/print project files without the ability to change data & without the cost of any licence.

Unique money back guarantee

PMSC are the only company that offers a full no quibble money back guarantee if the product does not perform as you expected.

To help you evaluate

You can download from our website a full working version - but limited to 15 tasks and does not save. We also can provide you with step by step multi media tutorials with full audio.

If you prefer a human touch, we can perform a live demo over the internet in the comfort of your office or even out of hours at home.
